

B I O G R A P H Y

Tara Lamont¹
Managing Director
Middle East and Turkey Market Manager

Tara Lamont is a Managing Director and Head of the Middle East Team at J.P. Morgan Private bank, based in Geneva, Switzerland. She serves on the J.P. Morgan (Suisse) SA Management Committee, the Private Bank EMEA Management Committee, The J.P. Morgan Saudi Arabia Board of Directors and represents the Private Bank on the MENAT Cross Line of Business Regional Management Committee. She oversees J.P. Morgan Private Bank's strategy in the Middle East, as well as being responsible for ensuring that J.P. Morgan delivers a seamless client experience in the region.

After graduating from Trinity College Dublin with a Master's degree, specializing in Finance, Tara joined J.P. Morgan's Graduate Program in 2000. She worked as an investment advisor at the Private Bank in New York before moving to J.P. Morgan (Suisse) SA in 2010 as a senior investor in the Middle East team. In 2013 she was promoted to Head of the Middle East Investment Team and was appointed Market Manager in July 2016.

Tara co-founded the EMEA Private Bank Women's Network in 2011. She resides in Geneva, Switzerland with her husband and two daughters.

¹ Tara's legal name is Tara Lamont however at work she has maintained her maiden name which is Tara Smyth